

Change a Life. Revitalize a Community. Shape the Future.

Teach in Oakland

August 18th – Take the first step toward Oakland's most rewarding profession

Who Should Attend?

- High School Students
- College students and graduates
- Career Changers
- Paraprofessionals
- Concerned Community Members
- Retired Professionals

Who Will Present?

- Oakland Mayor Ron Dellums
- OUSD State Administrator
Dr. Kimberly Statham
- OEA President
Betty Olson-Jones
- Assemblymember Sandre Swanson

Summit Co-Sponsors

- Office of the Mayor
- ETFO Task Force
- Oakland Unified School District
- Oakland Education Association
- Workforce Investment Board

EFFECTIVE TEACHERS FOR OAKLAND TASK FORCE PRESENTS:

A Teacher Recruitment Summit

August 18, 2007 from 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM at City Hall
Hearing Rooms 1-4

- Think about teaching with the Mayor, District Officials, Union Leaders, Teachers, Parents and Students
- Engage in activities and discussions about how to build a high quality, diverse and sustainable teacher workforce for Oakland youngsters
- Discover how to transition into teaching as a second career
- Learn how to earn your teaching credentials
- Find sources of financial aid, grants and scholarships to underwrite your teaching career
- See which local colleges and universities offer programs in education
- Learn more about current opportunities to teach in Oakland.

To reserve a place at the Summit, email: recruitment@ousd.k12.ca.us or call Jaron Epstein at 510-238-3134.

Task Force recommendations available at: www.mayor.rondellums.org

Providing a high quality education for all Oakland students is both a moral imperative and essential to the city's economic future. Teachers are heroes and Oakland needs more of them. Oakland helped shape you. Come help us shape its future - Oakland Mayor Ron Dellums

